

Direct Quote Log

The direct quote I pulled from my research and plan on using in my paper is: Copy carefully and exactly!!!

The properly-formatted parenthetical citation I will add to my paper at the end of this direct quote is:

- ★ For help, refer back to "Plagiarism: Don't Do It" handout & notice the three starred options on page 3. Choose the option that best matches your situation, based on whether you have an author's name, etc.

WORKS CITED INFORMATION FOR THE DIRECT QUOTE WRITTEN ABOVE:

I pulled this quote from the following source:

Title of article or book: _____

Remember- if it's a book, you need to italicize the title when you're typing it, and underline it when you're handwriting it.

Author's name: _____ Example: Tolin, Anna. Warders, Spencer.

*Write the author's name in the MLA format demonstrated: Last name, first name.

Source type (book, Web): _____

If a book, please complete:

Publication Company: _____

Publication City: _____

Publication Date: _____

Page number, if applicable: _____

If a Web source, please complete:

Complete Web address: _____

Date you visited/accessed this site: _____

*Write the date in the MLA format demonstrated: day month year (Example: 12 April 2013)

Date (day month and/ OR year) the site was last updated: _____

Search Engine used to find this site (Ebsco, Google, InfoTrack GALE, etc.) _____

Direct Quote Log

Did you have to use the checklist to confirm its credibility? (circle one) Yes

No

If so, how many "Yes" marks did it earn? _____/8